Plan of Service

Effective January 2020 – January 2023

Library staff collected demographics on the community of Oelwein using census information and city data. At the September 10, 2019 meeting, the Library Board of Trustees discussed the demographic information and how it affects the current library services. Ideas on what improvements could be made included the use of Instagram, showcasing materials available for check-out at community events, offering afternoon programs for retired patrons, and incorporating an additional study room. In addition, library staff designed a community survey that was available electronically on the library website and Facebook page. Paper copies were available at the library service desks, city hall, and at a wide variety of businesses throughout the community. The survey was available for two weeks with forty-six people responding. At the October 8, 2019 meeting, the Library Board of Trustees reviewed the results and the following conclusions were made:

- Patrons value the collection the most and gave the most recommendations for improving and expanding the collection.
- Patrons value the friendly, helpful staff and recommend having the library open on Sundays more often than the current time period of January – March.
- Patrons value having a beautiful, clean facility where people can meet and access information, especially through programs for all ages.

The results collected from demographics and the community survey were used to develop the library's plan of service which was approved by the Oelwein Public Library Board of Trustees December 17, 2019.
