All You Need Is Love... And Chocolate!

The Friends of the Library will host the Chocolate Fest on Friday, February 14 from 4:30-7:00 p.m. Buy a box of chocolate and enjoy an evening of live music by Bruce Bearer, wine tasting, and craft beer sampling.

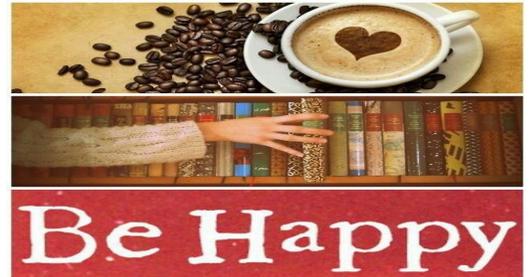

EXCUSE OUR MESS...

The library experienced some unwelcome excitement on Thursday, January 16th. A sprinkler in the southwest corner of the Fireplace Room froze causing it to activate. Staff were able to move the furnishings and rugs, some sustaining water damage. The Fire & Police Departments were called and assisted with cleanup. It was deemed the library should close until repairs could be made to the fire suppression system. Luckily, the library was only closed for the weekend. (Friday Jan. 17th-Sun. Jan. 19th). Lack of a functioning fire suppression system presented a safety concern for patrons using the library. Repairs to the room are underway and should take about a month to complete. In the meantime, You will find the newspapers and magazines in the New Books section in the south east room of the library. We are thankful this damage has been concentrated to just that area of the library and hope to be able to share and enjoy our fireplace again soon. A big thank you to all who were able to help at our time of need.

How To: Cultivate Mushrooms on Hardwood Thursday, Feb. 20th at 4:00 pm.

Come and learn from experienced mushroom log cultivators how to grow small scale log grown gourmet and medicinal mushrooms. Get hands on experience in the inoculation process. Learn the benefits of mushrooms for our bodies and environment. Emily and Christopher Appleman, from Stone Hollow Gardens & Shroomery, will demonstrate this process. 10 lucky participants will get one of these logs to take home. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library.
