"The only thing that you absolutely have to know, is the location of the library." - Albert Einstein

Author Jocelyn Green will give a presentation at the Oelwein Public Library on Monday, November 7th, at 6:00 p.m. Jocelyn Green inspires faith and courage as the award-winning and bestselling author of twenty books. Her most recent release, Drawn by the Current, is a finalist in historical fiction for the Christy Award. Jocelyn will speak to attendees on how to transform the dusty textbook past into a living, breathing world that lifts right off the page. After identifying the top reasons people read historical fiction, she will explore how to satisfy hopes for an immersive setting, historical integrity, nuanced characters, and timeless truths. With strategies, examples, and a few cautions, participants will come away with new ways to approach and appreciate historical fiction. This session will appeal to both readers and writers. This event is hosted by PEO and sponsored by the Oelwein Public Library.

Wreath Making Class Saturday, November 5th at 10 a.m.

The Fayette Take A Kid Outdoors (TAKO) chapter is hosting a kids and adult family program to learn how to use materials from our woodlots, ditches, and natural areas to create seasonal wreaths. It is free and open to the public. A free will donation of canned goods will be accepted for area food pantries. Presenting the program will be Ron Lenth, TAKO board member and also with Iowa State University Extension. Attendees will learn how to use natural materials like; wild grape vines, pine boughs, sumac, milkweed and others. Make a wreath for your home to enjoy or share. To aid in material needs, please contact the library at 319-283-1515 to register. TAKO focuses on outdoor education for our youth and holds regular area programs throughout the year.
